

Bonfire Safety Advice

Celebrate bonfire night in the safest possible way by attending an organised bonfire and firework display.

Most injuries throughout the bonfire period are as a result of people building their own bonfires, and setting off their own fireworks.

So our advice would always be to go to an organised event.

People might see starting a small bonfire or setting off fireworks as a bit of harmless fun.

But fire is unpredictable and can easily get out of control and spread.

And all sorts of things can go wrong with fireworks.

So please save your money and go to an organised event

In the run up to Bonfire Night, a list of organised bonfires are added to the Cheshire Fire and Rescue Service website.

Show this link on screen: www.cheshirefire.gov.uk

We hope you have an enjoyable and safe time this bonfire night.

For more information please visit our website to find a list of bonfires near you.

www.cheshirefire.gov.uk