

Safety projects despite tax freeze

New fire engines and specialist systems to help identify and protect vulnerable residents are among investments planned by Cheshire Fire Authority over the next 12 months – despite freezing its Council Tax level.

Two new standard fire engines and a specialist midi appliance with 4 wheel drive are planned at a cost of over £700,000 to keep its emergency fleet up to date and provide a better response during bad winter weather.

Other plans include:

- £122,000 to maintain use of the new radio system for operational crews
- £100,000 to improve facilities at fire stations for firefighters and the community in line with new legislation
- A £29,500 annual programme to replace the specialist thermal image cameras carried on every fire engine
- £12,000 for using technology which will help further improve how staff can identify and support at risk households.

The projects for 2011-12 follow a near £1 million investment by the Fire Authority over the last 12 months which has seen new state-of-the-art protective clothing provided for all firefighters and a complete replacement of breathing apparatus sets.

This continuing investment in improving the safety of staff and communities without any increase in Council Tax has been achieved through a programme of major efficiencies.

Savings of £1.9 million have been identified for 2011-12 while no staff will receive an annual pay increase following the national public sector pay freeze.

Most of the efficiencies have been achieved through restructuring and reducing posts and budgets in a number of support services.

More details about how Cheshire Fire and Rescue Service aims to protect local communities over the next 12 months are set out in 'Making Cheshire Safer'.

This annual publication, also referred to as the Integrated Risk Management Plan for 2011-12, is on the Service's website.

The Fire Authority has agreed that a budget of £43.7m is required for the Cheshire East, Cheshire West and Chester, Halton and Warrington areas for 2011-12.

This will ensure that £25.0m will be raised from local Council Tax, which is equivalent to £66.43 for each Band D dwelling. This is the same charge as for 2010-11.

The budget equates to a cost per person of less than 83p per week.
