

More Prevention, More Protection, Better Response

At the start of this calendar year, the Authority implemented a significant change to its emergency response provision with the introduction of a weekday crewing model. This saw the four on-call fire engines at Runcorn, Macclesfield, Northwich and Winsford changed to become full-time fire engines, which operate during weekday daytimes and serve flexibly across the county depending on operational risk and demands.

In addition, we reorganised our full-time fire cover in the Warrington area and introduced a day crewing shift system at Knutsford Fire Station. Taken together, these changes increase the number of guaranteed full time fire engines we have available to respond to emergencies and to undertake vital safety work in the community. These changes were outlined in our 2024-2028 Community Risk Management Plan (CRMP), which sets out how we will deliver fire and rescue services across Cheshire to address the risks we face and meet the needs of the communities we serve; providing more fire prevention, more fire protection and a better emergency response.

We are already underway with our work to deliver our response changes. However, equally as important is our work in the community to both prevent fires and other emergencies from occurring. To improve this we have reviewed our prevention department to ensure it is equipped to meet the demands and risks we face; enabling us to better support those most vulnerable and at risk from fire and to help keep people safe on our roads and around water.

Over the coming year we will also begin a review of our fire protection department to ensure that it is structured and equipped to meet the risks we face as a county and deliver more protection activity to keep people safe from fire and compliant with fire safety legislation.

Please visit our website cheshirefire.gov.uk for more information on the fire and rescue services we provide for the people of Cheshire.
